Kindergarten

As I write this note, we have 18 days left of kindergarten. We have grown in our faith, academics, friendships and independence. I will be giving you back your child(ren), 9 months older, taller and ready to conquer the next stage of their academic path. We will be reviewing what we learned this year as well as reminiscing our special times together. With the end so near, the emotions begin to build up. You may notice that a bit with your children.

I have been blessed to be a part of this community and I thank you for allowing me to spend each day with your precious child(ren). Please come visit anytime.
